Soho Photo Gallery is pleased to announce the winners of the Fourth Annual Alternative Processes Juried Competition. We thank all the photographers who submitted entries to this year’s competition. The dates of the exhibit are November 6 – 29, 2008, with an opening reception on November 6, 6 – 8 p.m.

Our juror, Dan Estabrook, viewed over 650 images to arrive at his selection of 40 images produced by 28 artists. The winning images represent a wide variety of alternative processes, ranging from tintypes to Polaroid© image transfers. Estabrook commented,

“I thank Soho Photo for holding this competition. It was wonderful to see so much interesting work. As a practitioner of these old processes, it’s heartening to see this work being kept alive by so many artists, at a time when almost all chemical photography is disappearing. More importantly, as a fan of handmade photography, I am delighted to see such strong and varied work. It is truly an inspiration.”

We congratulate the winning artists:
